

Scientific Meetings & Conferences

In order to encourage collaboration and exchange of ideas and resources between Danish researchers and their international peers, Lundbeck Foundation supports international scientific meetings and conferences, held in Denmark, primarily when Danish scientific societies have won the right to organise such meetings.

Criteria:

To be eligible for a grant for scientific meetings or conferences it must be:

- The focus of meetings must be in neuroscience or a field with potential benefit for neuroscience
- Support for scientific meetings and conferences will mainly be given within the area of brain- and nervous system research, and mainly to international meetings/conferences held in Denmark, arranged by Danish organisations, hospitals or universities or arranged in a close collaboration such Danish partners
- Open for qualified attendees

The topic for the scientific meeting/conference must be within neuroscience or a field with potential benefit for neuroscience.

You can apply for up to DKK 300,000.